

Dr. Roberta Vasconcelos-Berg

Roberta Vasconcelos-Berg completed her training in dermatology at the University of São Paulo, Brazil, in 2010, where she worked for 8 years, and earned her PhD with a focus on cutaneous lymphoma. In Switzerland since 2018, she is a board-certified dermatologist (FMH) and currently serves as Head of Aesthetic Dermatology and Laser at the University Hospital Basel, as well as CEO of the Margarethenklinik in Basel. Her clinical and research interests focus on aesthetic dermatology, laser treatments, and the integration of imaging technologies such as high-frequency ultrasound to improve safety and outcomes in injectable procedures.”